Re: Dockets WC 02-361

Dear Ms. Dortch:

On Thursday, December 4, Deb Lenart and Mark Chudzinski of Callipso, and Kathleen Wallman and Kevin Lefton of Wallman Consulting, met with Jessica Rosenworcel, Paul Jackson, Paul Nagle, Matthew Brill, Amber Stokes, Lisa Zaina, William Maher, Jane Jackson, Tamara Priess, Michelle Carey, Thomas Navin, Jennifer McKee, Russell Hanser, Robert Tanner, and Joshua Swift. In addition, LaCharles Keese of ICG attended the above-referenced meetings involving the Bureau staff and Commissioner Copps' office. We discussed marketplace developments in connection with the RBOCs' reactions to the roll out of competitive VoIP products and services.

We explained and discussed the importance of regulatory certainty in matters affecting VoIP services and products. We expressed a view that it would be prudent to clarify that access charges do not now apply and will not prospectively apply to VoIP services until such time as the Commission completes its rulemaking on a complete record. Further, we expressed concern that, while it would be useful for the Commission to act quickly to affirm that VoIP remained exempt from switched access charges, and to caution dominant carriers from engaging in self-help measures, the Commission should be cautious not to change the "status quo" where to do so would risk unintended and unknown harm to prospective advanced applications and IP-based services. We agreed to provide additional information that may be relevant to the Commission's consideration of issues affecting VoIP services and products.

Very truly yours,

Kathleen Wallman
